Privacy Notice for Parents and Students

Introduction

Tudor Hall School and Carrdus School are committed to keeping your data safe. This notice is to help you understand how and why we collect personal information about you and your child, who is a pupil at Tudor Hall or Carrdus School (referred to collectively as the School), and what we do with that information. It also explains the decisions that you can make about your own information.

If you have any questions about this notice, please contact the Bursar at bursar@tudorhallschool.com

What is personal information?

Personal information is information that identifies you as an individual and relates to you or your child. This includes but not limited to your contact details, next of kin and financial information. We may also hold sensitive information such as your health data or religion. CCTV, photos and video recordings of you are also personal information. For further details see our Data Protection Policy.

How and why does the School collect and use personal information?

We set out below examples of the different ways in which we use personal information and where this personal information comes from. The School's primary reason for using your personal information is to provide educational services. The School is also required to hold personal data for its employees and governors.

- We obtain information about you from admissions forms and from your child's previous school.
- We may also get information from professionals such as doctors and from local authorities.
- We may have information about any family circumstances which might affect your child's welfare or happiness.
- We may need information about any court orders or criminal petitions which relate to you. This is so that we can safeguard the welfare and wellbeing of your child and the other pupils at the School.
- We may use CCTV to make sure the school site is safe. CCTV is not used in private areas such as toilets.
- Unless you have declined permission, we may take photographs or videos of you at School events to use on social media and on the School website. This is to show prospective parents and pupils what we do here and to advertise the School. We may continue to use these photographs and videos after your child has left the School.
- We may send you information to keep you up to date with what is happening at the School. For example, by sending you information about events and activities taking place (including fundraising events) and the School newsletter.
- We may keep details of your address when your child leaves the School, so we can send you school publications, event invitations and find out how your child is progressing. We may also pass your details onto our alumnae association, for which we have a separate privacy notice.
- We may use information about you if we need this for historical research purposes or for statistical purposes.

Financial information

We will process financial information about you in relation to the payment of fees. In some cases we get information about you from third parties such as credit reference agencies or from your child's previous school(s). We may hold information about bankruptcy petitions and statutory demands. We may search the files of any licensed credit reference agency in order to verify your identity. This also allows us to assess your application for the award of a bursary or for credit in contemplation of an agreement for the deferment of fees. The credit reference agency will keep a record of that search and details about your application. This record will be seen by other organisations which make searches about you.

Failure to supply information may result in a refusal of an award or credit.

Sharing personal information with third parties

In accordance with our legal obligations, we may share information with local authorities, the Independent Schools Inspectorate and the Department for Education, for example where we have any safeguarding concerns.

On occasion, we may need to share information with the police.

If your child has special dietary requirements we will share this information with our catering partners.

We may also need to share information with our legal advisers for the purpose of obtaining legal advice.

Occasionally we may use consultants, experts and other advisors to assist the School in fulfilling its obligations and to help run the School properly. We might need to share your information with them if this is relevant to their work.

If your child is not of British nationality, we have to make sure that your child has the right to study in the UK. As part of this process, we will ask you for a copy of your child's passport identification page and any relevant Visa(s). We will retain these for our records for two years following the end of your child's time at the school. We might have to provide information about you to UK Visas and Immigration to comply with our duties as a Tier 4 sponsor.

We may share some information with our insurance company, for example, where there is a serious incident at the School.

If you have unpaid fees while your child is at the School, we may share information about this with other schools or educational establishments to which you intend to send your child. We may also need to share this data with debt collection agencies.

If your child leaves us to attend another school, we may need to provide that school with information about you. For example, details of family circumstances for safeguarding reasons.

We may share information about you with others in your family, such as another parent or step-parent. For example, where this is part of our obligation to take care of your child, as part of our wider legal and regulatory obligations, or in connection with school fees.

We may need to share information if there is an emergency, for example, if you are hurt whilst on School premises.

Our legal grounds for using your information

This section contains information about the legal basis that we are relying on when handling your information.

Legitimate interests

This means that the processing is necessary for legitimate interests except where the processing is unfair to you. The School relies on legitimate interests for most of the ways in which it uses your information. Specifically, the School has a legitimate interest in:

- Providing educational services to your child;
- Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of your child (and other children);
- Promoting the objects and interests of the School. This includes fundraising, using material in the public domain to evaluate your capacity to support the charitable interests of the School and to keep you in touch with news about school life, alumnae reunions, career network opportunities, and supporting the School. It also includes making sure that we are able to enforce our rights against you, for example, so that we can contact you if unpaid school fees are due;
- Facilitating the efficient operation of the School; and
- Ensuring that all relevant legal obligations of the School are complied with.

In addition, your personal information may be processed for the legitimate interests of others. For example another school will have a legitimate interest in knowing if you have not paid School fees that are due to us. If you object to us using your information where we are relying on our legitimate interests as explained above please contact the Bursar.

Necessary for a contract

We will need to use your information in order to perform our obligations under our contract with you. For example, we need your name and contact details so that we can update you on your child's progress and so that we can contact you if there is a concern.

Legal obligation

Where the School needs to use your information in order to comply with a legal obligation, for example to report a concern to Children's Services. We may also have to disclose your information to third parties such as the courts, the local authority or the police where legally obliged to do so.

Where there are vital or public interests, for example, to prevent someone from being seriously harmed or killed. The School considers that it is acting in the public interest when providing education.

Special categories of personal data

The School must also comply with an additional condition where it processes special categories of personal information. These special categories are as follows: personal information revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, genetic information, biometric information, health information, and information about sex life or orientation. The additional condition includes:

- Substantial public interest. The processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest.
- Vital interests. To protect the vital interests of any person where that person cannot give consent, for example, if they are seriously hurt and are unconscious.
- Legal claims. The processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. This allows us to share information with our legal advisors and insurers.
- Medical purposes. This includes medical treatment and the management of healthcare services.

Carrdus School

- Consent. We may ask for your consent to use your information in certain ways. If we ask for your consent to use your personal information you can take back this consent at any time. Any use of your information before you withdraw your consent remains valid. Please contact the Bursar if you would like to withdraw any consent given.

Sending information to other countries

We may send your information to other countries where:

- We store information on computer servers based overseas
- We communicate with you when you or your child are overseas (for example, during the holidays if you live in a different country)

The European Commission has produced a list of countries which have adequate data protection rules.

The list can be found here:

http://ec.europa.eu/justice/data-protection/internationaltransfers/adequacy/index_en.htm

If the country that we are sending your information to is not on the list or is not a country within the EEA (which means the European Union, Liechtenstein, Norway and Iceland) then it might not have the same level of protection for personal information as there is the UK. The School will only use processors to store data in such countries if adequate and GDPR compliant measures are in place.

For how long do we keep your information?

We keep your information for as long as we need to in order to educate and look after your child or to fulfil our duties as your employer.

We will keep some information after your child has left the School, for example, so that we can find out what happened if you make a complaint.

We will also keep your information in order to maintain contact with you as part of the wider school community which includes old girls, their parents, former staff and governors.

In exceptional circumstances we may keep your information for a longer time than usual but we would only do so if we had a good reason and only if we are allowed to do so under data protection law.

We can keep information about you for a very long time or even indefinitely if we need this for historical, research or statistical purposes. For example, if we consider the information might be useful if someone wanted to write a book about the School.

What decisions can you make about your information?

From May 2018 data protection legislation gives you a number of rights regarding your information:

- If information is incorrect you can ask us to correct it;
- You can also ask what information we hold about you and be provided with a copy. This is known as a Subject Access Request (SAR). We will also give you extra information, such as why we use this information about you, where it came from and what types of people we have sent it to. If you request a SAR we have one calendar month to provide you with the information providing the request is reasonable and proportionate;
- You can ask us to delete the information that we hold about you in certain circumstances, for example, where we no longer need the information;

This policy refers to all sections of Tudor Hall and Carrdus including EYFS

Carrdus School

- You can ask us to send you, or another organisation, certain types of information about you in a format that can be read by computer.

Our use of information about you may be restricted in some cases. For example, if you tell us that the information is inaccurate we can only use it for limited purposes while we check its accuracy.

Further information and guidance

The Bursar is the person responsible at our school for managing how we look after personal information and deciding how it is shared.

Like other organisations we need to keep your information safe, up to date, only use it for what we said we would, destroy it when we no longer need it and, most importantly, treat the information we get fairly.

This notice is to explain how we use your personal information. The Bursar can answer any questions which you may have.

Please speak to the Bursar if:

- You object to us using your information for marketing purposes e.g. to send you information about school events. We will stop using your information for marketing purposes if you tell us not to; or
- You would like us to update the information we hold about you;
- or you would prefer that certain information is kept confidential.

If you consider that we have not acted properly when using your personal information you can contact the Information Commissioner's Office - ico.org.uk.

The Data Controller is Tudor Hall School at Wykham Park Banbury, Oxfordshire OX16 9UR and is registered with the ICO, registration number Z5684667.
